A black and white photograph showing three people in business attire sitting around a table, reviewing documents. The person on the left is a woman with short hair, wearing a dark jacket over a light-colored shirt. The person in the middle is a man with short hair, wearing a dark vest over a light-colored shirt. The person on the right is a man with short hair, wearing a dark suit jacket. They are all looking at the documents on the table. The documents appear to be spreadsheets or reports with various charts and text. The background is slightly out of focus, showing what looks like a wall with some posters or notices.
